SOUR MILK VERY USEFUL AS FOOD

Has Some Food It Originally Had Because It Is Source of Lime for Bone Building.

LACTIC ACID IS HEALTHFUL

Clabber is Relished as Refreshing and Wholesome by Many People, Especially if Served With Sugar and Sweet Cream.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

"Accidents will happen in the best-regulated families." In spite of the most careful protection from dust, flies, or exposure to the sun, milk occasionally turns sour in the refrigerator during the hottest months. It may be that there is more left-over milk than usual, or that the ice supply is low, or that heat or thunder have affected the milk. Sour milk, nevertheless, has the same food value as it had originally, specialists in the United States Department of Agriculture say, because it is still a source of lime for bone building, of protein for tissue repair.

Lactic Acid Considered Healthful. The bacteria which have caused souring are not necessarily harmful, if the milk was properly cared for, and the effect of those which caused the development of the lactic acid in the milk is thought by some to be beneficial. Many who cannot get buttermilk to drink like to churn thick, freshly soured milk with an egg beater till the curds are broken up into fine particles, and use it in the same way.

Clabber—the coagulated, semiliquid state of fresh sour milk—is relished as refreshing and wholesome by many people, especially if served with sugar and sweet cream. The addition of maple sirup, honey, orange marmalade, or other preserves to clabbered cream makes a delicious dessert. An excellent lent cake filling can be made of thick, sour cream, whipped and sweetened, with nuts added. Whipped sour cream is often added to mayonnaise salad dressing for fruit salads.

"Just One More Cookie, Grandma, Please."

No housewife needs to be told that good gingerbread can be made with sour milk, as well as corn breads of various kinds. In most recipes where sour milk is used as a leaven with soda, fewer eggs are called for. Very good pancakes and cornbread can be made with sour milk, omitting eggs entirely. Farmers' Bulletin 565, Corn Meal as a Food and Ways of Using It, gives no less than nine recipes calling for sour milk. Among them is this easy way of making Boston Brown Bread:

Boston Brown Bread.

1 cupful corn meal. 1 teaspoonful salt.
1 cupful rye meal. ¾ cupful molasses.
1 cupful graham 2 cupfuls sour milk, flour, or 1½ cupfuls sweet soda.

Mix and sift the dry ingredients and add the molasses and milk. Beat thoroughly and steam 3½ hours in well-buttered, covered molds. One-pound baking powder tins are satisfactory. Remove the covers and bake the bread long enough to dry the top.

This may be made also with 1½ cupfuls corn meal and rye meal and no graham flour. A cupful of seeded and shredded raisins or prunes or a cupful of currants may be added.

This serves eight people.

If there is only a very little sour milk on hand, why not make some cookies? They may be made with corn meal. Oatmeal cookies are also excellent.

Corn-Meal Cookies.

¾ cupful fat. 2 cupfuls corn meal.

¾ cupful corn ½ teaspoonful soda.

1 cupful molasses. 1 cupful flour.

1 egg. 6 tablespoonsful sour milk.

Combine the melted fat, sirup, molasses, beaten egg, and sour milk. Sift together the corn meal, soda, and flour.

Add the liquid ingredients to the dry ingredients. Drop from a teaspoon into a greased pan and bake 15 minutes in a moderate oven. This recipe makes 55 to 60 cookies 2 inches in diameter.

Sour milk or buttermilk and baking soda may frequently be substituted where the recipe calls for sweet milk. In place of one teaspoonful of baking powder a scant half teaspoonful of soda is used to each cupful of sour milk. Chocolate cake is particularly good when this substitution is made.

In griddle cakes and muffins the same plan may be followed.

Bran Muffins.

1 cupful flour. 1 tablespoonful

1 teaspoonful salt. shortening, melted.

1 teaspoonful soda. ¼ to ½ cupfuls sour

3 cupfuls clean milk.

½ to ¾ cupful bran. ½ cupful seeded raisins or chopped nuts.

Sift together the flour, salt, and soda and mix with this the bran. Add together the shortening, melted shortening, and part of the milk; then mix with the dry materials. Add the raisins, dusted with flour, and enough sour milk to form a batter of such consistency that it will drop but not pour from the spoon, but be as wet as possible otherwise. Bake in greased muffin pans about half hour.

VINEGAR USEFUL IN VEGETABLE CANNING

Time of Processing May Be Somewhat Reduced.

Two Years of Experimental Work on Subject Made by Home Economics Kitchen—Much Corn Reported Spoiled Last Year.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

A little vinegar added to beans, corn, peas, asparagus, or spinach when canned by the water-bath method, will add materially in the reduction of loss by spoilage. Moreover, the time of processing these vegetables may be somewhat reduced when a sufficient amount of acid is used, the home economics kitchen of the United States Department of Agriculture reports after two years of experimental work on the subject.

In certain sections of the country in 1919 and 1920 canned sweet corn did not keep well, whether processed continuously or intermittently. In the home economics kitchen quart cans of corn processed for less than six hours continuously spoiled, while others canned at the same time, with the addition of four tablespoons of vinegar to one quart, did not spoil either year, although given only two hours processing. If only three tablespoons of vinegar are used, process four hours; two or three tablespoons of lemon juice to a quart have equally good results when processed three hours. Corn should always be boiling hot when packed into the jar.

With spinach and string beans the addition of two tablespoons of the acid proved equally effective in reducing spoilage. Vinegar or lemon juice in the small amounts used modifies to some degree the natural flavor of the vegetable, but the acid taste is not objectionable to most persons. Moreover, much of the acid taste can be washed off before the vegetables are served. Experiments with vinegar and other acids in canning vegetables will be continued in the kitchen next year.

FRESH FRUIT IS EXCELLENT

It Supplies Some Sugar and the Important Mineral Matters, Mild Acids and Vitamins.

Fruit is food. It supplies some sugar and the important mineral matters, mild fruit acids, and vitamins, say experts in the United States Department of Agriculture, office of home economics. These food substances help to keep the body in good health and to prevent constipation.

Use fresh fruit whenever possible and can the surplus. Apples, pears, plums, peaches, cherries, oranges, grapefruit, grapes, bananas, avocados, berries—the list is very long. Some where in the United States some of them are always in season, and some are in market everywhere much of the time.

Use dried fruits, either home dried or those on sale almost everywhere. Soak prunes, dried apples, dried apricots in water overnight and cook them long enough to make them tender.

Use dates, figs, or raisins. These are very good added to breakfast cereal 10 minutes before taking it from the stove.

Laundry bags of Turkish toweling are excellent.

Bananas should be thoroughly ripe, eaten slowly and well chewed.

No cake should be moved in the oven until it has risen its full height.

An old mackintosh can be turned into a most useful apron for washing days.

A steel needle is excellent for loosening a cake from the center tube of the cake pan.

The French, Belgian and Swiss natives cook a mess of young lettuce leaves just like spinach.

A delicious peach jam is made with dried peaches and shredded almonds. Flavor with a little cinnamon.

Soap chips or soap powders should be thoroughly dissolved in boiling water before being used. Sometimes washing preparations eat the clothes if allowed to rest in undissolved lumps on the material.

A Call From Home.

"I'd like to see Mr. Wadleigh."

"He's listening over the telephone," said the discreet secretary.

"Listening?"

"Draw your own inference, sir. I won't say in so many words that Mrs. Wadleigh, who is at the other end of the wire, is doing all the talking."

WITH THE FUNNY MEN

Often Go Together.

"A popular novelist says women are not as intelligent as men."

"If I were in his shoes I wouldn't make a statement like that," said the book reviewer.

"Why not?"

"He might cut down his royalties. There's a close affinity between bonbons and 'best sellers.'"

Wasn't Going That Far.

Country Parson (to farmer belaboring his horse)—Say, my good man, with all this cursing and beating of your horse, you'll never get to heaven.

Farmer Hays—That might be, but I'm only going to town with a load of peraters!

Simplicity of Greatness.

"Really great men have very simple natures."

"Sometimes they have," said Miss Cayenne; "and on the other hand, they show their powers of dissimulation by seeming so gentle and truthful that you couldn't suspect the slightest motive of personal interest."

Very Considerate.

"Did the motorist who ran over you show any consideration whatever?"

"He certainly did," said the victim.

"And I marveled at the exhibition. He examined that confounded car of his from stem to stern to see if it had been damaged anywhere."

The Ruling Class.

The Depositor—What's the idea of this new clearing house association rule fixing noon for your opening hour? Think it'll suit the public?

The Bank President—No, not that. But our cooks and chauffeurs object to getting up so early.

Practical Interchange.

"A soft answer turneth away wrath," remarked the expert in quotations.

"True," replied Mr. Dustin Stax; "but in regular business a soft answer isn't as valuable as a hard bargain."

NOT PARTICULAR

"Now you may kiss my hand."

"No thank you, your lips are quite good enough for me."
